

Employment Opportunities

Employment Opportunities at Successful Software

Successful Software's Human Resources Department is constantly looking for bright people to work with them.

The Office of Human Resources exists to serve Successful Software and staff in the development, implementation and evaluation of a comprehensive personnel, training and employment relations system. Through consultation and information dissemination, we assist the Successful Software Company to anticipate and meet the human resources demands of a changing business environment.

There may be professional positions for which you may be qualified and interested, e.g., positions in Information Technology, Research and Development, Field Research, Sales, etc.

Keep in mind that different job positions have different recruitment procedures and employment policies. Please make sure that you are having the minimum requirements before submitting your interest to us. Employment Opportunities that are currently available at Successful Software:

- Field Researchers (FR-50): Job requirements (as described in the classified advertisement).

Please click here to submit your interest for this position.